- ❖ BoG, SEC Warn Public Against ‘Daily Wealth Guide’ Crypto Scam Using Doctored Mahama Video: The Bank of Ghana (BoG) and the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) have issued a warning against a crypto investment scam called “Daily Wealth Guide,” which falsely claims endorsement from President John Mahama through a doctored video. The regulators cautioned the public not to invest, highlighting that only licensed bodies can legally engage in deposit-taking. They emphasized that no entity is licensed for crypto investment, and involvement in such scams could lead to significant penalties under the Anti-Money Laundering Act. The notice underscores the importance of verifying the regulatory status of investment platforms and advises media outlets against promoting unlicensed financial schemes, as advertising can falsely legitimize fraudulent products. - ❖ IMF Warns Global Debt Is Nearing 100.00% Of GDP As Growth Remains Stuck Around 3.00%: Global public debt is approaching 100% of GDP, presenting a challenging fiscal landscape, according to the IMF. Managing Director Kristalina Georgieva indicated global growth may reach about 3% by 2026, thanks to adjustments in energy supply and increased AI investment, mainly in the U.S. However, economic disparities, energy insecurity, and high public debt complicate the outlook. Rising debt and interest rates strain government budgets, especially in developing nations, hindering essential spending. The IMF has called for comprehensive reforms to manage unsustainable debt and improve fiscal strategies to foster growth and restore financial stability in vulnerable economies. (Norvanreports)
